> "These are the specific types of evidence we want to present to the American people on the national stage and not allow local politicians to sweep it under the rug," Miller said.

> Miller said that evidence could be presented in Congress, which would differ from what the Trump campaign presented in courts over the past several weeks.

THIS, I believe, is what "gonna be wild" has been about since that first tweet. People everywhere were already going to tune in just to see the crowd of patriots. They're in for a much bigger show, and our proud patriots will be on the front row. Let's see how fast these electors are willing to commit treason on national television with the whole world watching.

They'll plead ignorance of the law, supervisor commanded them, they weren't aware treason is punishable by death.

Yes but with Sztrok, Page, Brennan, Clapper, Corney, McCabe, Roberts, Wray, Mueller, etc., still wandering free as a bird, living high off the hog—to say nothing of elected politicians, who some magic spell (invented by politicians) says can never be punished no matter what they do, because *"political rival"—here's the Order of Operations:

> If you wait until Jan and evidence is ignored and the vote is certified, you are out of options. Very difficult to undo a Certification.

Except FRAUD cancels the legal validity of everything it touches.

A certification based on fraud is null and void upon its creation. Literally, it is legally null and void.

It's not null and void only after the fraud is "proven". It's already invalid the instant it was created. Proving it is simply demonstrating the fact that it was already void the instant it was created. And Trump's team has more than enough evidence to do that. Hell, we have that much here on tdw.

"Fraud vitiates everything."

Yes, it looks like the Trump strategy is to present the evidence to Congress on Jan 6, and dare them to certify. Which the corrupt Congress will very likely do because the fraud evidence is not irrefutable.

I am even fine with waiting few months for irrefutable evidence to come out such that not even corrupt Judges and Senators can ignore it.

At such time we can remove the illegitimate President and hold new Elections.

I was thinking about that today. This card must be something that cannot, in any way, be discarded or fought against it.

I was wondering if it can be something that involves the members of the congress themselves, personally? Their voice recordings? That would be something huh? But haven’t thought it through on how this scenario would play out.

You call it a "card"? I think you presume too much. It is most likely a meaningless symbolic move to present some evidence. If I had huge evidence I would go to the Courts. Maybe straight to the Supreme Court, if it was Congressional misbehaviour as you suggest.

Trump is still trying to offer them an chance to come clean or to show even more proof as to how bad the corruption is.

32 That's ... not going to happen.

I'm sorry man, but it's not. I'd like it to happen, you'd like it, we'd all like it, but the harsh reality is that isn't going to happen

CANNOT ignore, nor can they not cover, because they're going to be covering the rally. Every media organization will be there. Even CNN. Trump is playing them by forcing their hand into covering information on the fraud.

That'll spark a super pissed off uproar and the house and senate will be paying attention. And with in your face, official reports from foreign governments and official briefs from their intelligence communities confirming it, it's really really hard to hand wave away. Trump is going to try to put so much pressure to buckle the senate/house that they'll push the vote into delegations.

It's a good plan. It's a longshot. He wants a ton of people there to discourage congress from double downing. He's using the rally as an intimidation tool. This is like ... the last hand in the poker game. Winner take all. We have to hope that he's got a royal flush.

Plasma cannons firing off from orbit. Chuck Schumer, while masturbating to hardcore man on man pornography in full view of a baby, is liquefied before our eyes.

Felix Baumgartener sky dives in from the Stratosphere, with a t-shirt cannon, shooting off "I Watched The Democratic Party Crumble and All I Got Was FREEDOM from COMMUNISM" t-shirts.

Antifa collectively cries along with BLM, who has now both completely lost all funding.

George Soros, Nancy Pelosi, and the worst Obama are brought out on stage, strapped to hand-trucks. Tomatoes and Lettuce are passed out to everyone in the front row, and the barrage begins; This will come to be known as "The Tossing" and it will be taught in schools for the next millennia.

Mike Lindell ushers a bound and shackled together Bill Gates, Jack Dorsey, and Mark Zuckerberg, stark naked, and buckets of tar and Giza cotton pillowcases full of goose feathers sponsored by My Pillow are brought in by forklift. After they are all tared and feathered, they are hanged by their big toes, upside down until dead.

Donald Trump then cracks open an ice cold Diet Coke, thrown from the crowd by Stone Cold Steve Austin, chugs it, and belches out a war cry that registers 192 decibels. Rudy Giuliani walks on stage holding the Lincoln Bible and Trump places his hand on top, being sworn in for the next 40 years.

Our New 4th of July is cemented in the history books. January the 6th, the day that Donald Trump, fulfilled his final campaign promise to Drain The Swamp, and We The People TOOK BACK OUR COUNTRY!

Neither Mitch nor Nancy is in charge of the joint session on the 6th, Pence is.

It's possible if the challenge is successful and they break out into the House session that Pelosi can have some fun and games, but the Senate is Republican.

A recent report not yet verified says both the US House and the US Senate both have to vote separately to agree to throw out a State's election.

If this is 4D chess, after all the evidence is presented to the public, the Democrats either have to vote for clean elections or explain for the next umpteen years why they upheld a criminal acts.

Better that Trump gets his 2nd term.

This is going to be the "real" silver fox move.

As president of the join session, Silver Fox decides how the session goes. (Just like how Nasty Nancy decides how the house goes and what gets put on the agenda)

Pence sets first item on the agenda as going over fraud evidence. If meme magic is real, the evidence will specifically call out certain persons in the very same session that are compromised/illegitimate (with evidence)

You will have moderate dems voting for Trump in the contingent election in the house once it is shown Feinstein, Pelosi, Schummer and others haven't actually won an election in the last 20 years. AOC lost her primary, nearly every house seat that flipped to D in 2018 was illegitimate.

We might even see that Obama/Biden cheated in 2012 and most likely in 2008. HillDawg and Biden cheated Bernie out in 2016 and 2020.

less likely, but I think that this was why Trump's SCOTUS picks didn't vote to hear the TX case. Have you ever known Trump's counter punches to be less than or equal to the original attack? it is always a devastating escalation. 4 more years after a court case will still have an air of illegitimacy...no so muc n you get dems voting for Trump in the house/senate.

If you've ever seen these being done in the past, what you'd see is that the VP just reads off a script that is handed to him by the Parliamentarian. I haven't seen anything that says Pence is going to do what he wants and deviate from the script.

That's where you come in.

1 million + rally isn't something that can be ignored and it puts INTENSE pressure on the lawmakers. If Trump has OFFICIAL intelligence reports from other countries that he reached out to that confirm election fraud, he doesn't need the FBI or anyone investigating.

It'd hold more weight if you had a country like Ukraine, Russia, Israel saying 'Yeah. We hacked into the US election and passively watched it get fucked with. We traced the bad actors back to Iran and China in real time. We didn't interfere one way or another, we just watched.' It'd be better if it was from a NATO country, but beggars can't be choosers.

If he had a report like that, with 1M+ people at a rally and all MSM being forced to report on it, the senate/house are put in a really tight fucking spot.

If you ask me, the only way Trump wins based on a Challenge of the Electors from the House and Senate is if it goes into a closed session and Trump lays out all the evidence he has against each and every traitorous congressman.

The problem with this route is that he will be making a deal that all these traitors, if they vote for him, they get away with treason. Which in my view is unacceptable, because they will remain around in order to corrupt the nation again and there will not be repercussions solid enough to cause the fear of God in potential traitors.

From the Highest Senators and Representatives to their lowliest workers to every CEO, large stock holder, and employee of traitorous Media, Tech, corporate or elsewhere, Millionaires and Billionaires who supported traitors, every single last one of them should be identified, investigated, charged, tried in a military tribunal and executed as traitors based upon the evidence.

potential congressional debate on Jan. 6 if lawmakers in the House and Senate object to states' Electoral College votes.

As of Wednesday, it appears that at least one member of the Senate, Sen. Josh Hawley (R-Mo.), and a number of House lawmakers will object to the electoral votes during the Joint Session of Congress. Hawley announced he would object to the electoral vote, pointing to previous Democratic efforts to do so during the 2004 and 2016 presidential elections. After the objection, an hours-long debate will occur.

Miller said that evidence could be presented in Congress, which would differ from what the Trump campaign presented in courts over the past several weeks.

"We will have a chance in front of the American people, next week to present these cases, all these evidences of fraud," Miller told Newsmax, pointing to a lawsuit filed by Rep. Louie Gohmert (R-Texas) against Vice President Mike Pence earlier this week to prevent him from confirming Joe Biden's electoral victory. Miller told the outlet that the 1887 Electoral Count Act allows the vice president, who is the president of the Senate, to preside over the Joint Session of Congress.

Then, Miller told Newsmax that he hopes at least one senator and representative join together to object to the Electoral College vote, allowing for two hours of debate.

Should that happen, Miller said President Donald Trump's team is seeking to present alleged evidence of voter fraud or irregularities in the Nov. 3 election, including law changes regarding mail-in ballots in Wisconsin, "suitcases of ballots" in Georgia being wheeled out late at night on Nov. 3 in Atlanta's State Farm Center, and being blocked in Arizona and Michigan from inspecting voting systems, alleging that ballots were counted several times.

"These are the specific types of evidence we want to present to the American people on the national stage and not allow local politicians to sweep it under the rug," Miller said.

Weeks ago, Trump's team led by Rudy Giuliani presented a surveillance video from the State Farm Center that showed suitcase-like boxes being wheeled from under a table. It came after election officials allegedly told other workers and poll observers that counting was done for the night.

The Georgia GOP said they received conflicting and incorrect answers and statements from Fulton County officials about what happened on Election Night, and officials later acknowledged that vote-counting went on until the early-morning hours. State election officials, in response to the video, said nothing unusual occurred with the ballot boxes and vote-tabulation process in Fulton County.

Elaborating on Wisconsin, he said, "Article II of the Constitution makes it very clear, the state legislatures, and state legislatures alone, set up the voting systems for each state, the codes and the way they are conducted." He said, "And what we have here is we have over 20,000 ballots that were cast without actually having an application on file, the mail ballots. Wisconsin's very clear, very specific you got to have an application on file."

These rules are passed with likely only a plurality vote of Congress.
These rules can and must be maliable due to this important violation of article IV Section 4 of the Constitution, the guarantee by the Federal Government of a republican form of GOV'T in each state. If Trump's votes are thrown out, proven, and many many more fake votes are given to Biden, proven, well then we have a real real big Constitutional problem.

These congressional rules are separate from and don't have the same weight as the Constitution, where every Amendment needed 2/3rds of the State to pass it.

No.

1.) You can't arrest a sitting member of the house or senate while in session/on the floor.

2.) No ones going to prison. it's difficult enough to prove election fraud. It's even more difficult to prove WHO is responsible.

No doors are getting kicked in. You're there to apply pressure on congress by being there, supporting the president and for forcing main stream media to report the rally and by proxy the evidence Trump wants to present.

That's your function. Plain and simple.
